

Answers to common questions about leaving a gift to SURVIVE-MIVA in your Will (continued) ...

Are there any tax implications if I leave a gift to SURVIVE-MIVA in my Will?

Yes—in a positive way. Currently, UK registered charities are exempt from Inheritance Tax so money left to SURVIVE-MIVA in your Will is deducted from your Estate before Inheritance Tax is calculated—this may mean that your family/inheritors have less tax to pay.

Is it possible to leave my house to SURVIVE-MIVA?

This is a generous offer, but SURVIVE-MIVA isn't equipped to deal with properties. We would prefer that all assets of your Estate were sold by the executors of your Will and SURVIVE-MIVA's share sent on to us as a cheque or via a bank transfer.

Why leave a gift to SURVIVE-MIVA in your Will?

SURVIVE-MIVA is a Catholic lay Association and UK Registered Charity, which exists to provide one vital element for successful health, developmental, educational and pastoral work in developing countries—mobility.

According to location and the work being done, the forms of transport our grants provide vary greatly. Some examples of projects we have supported include:-

- Mitsubishi 4WD for Indigenous Missionary Council, Brazil - health and social care for peoples up to 675 km distant.
- Yamaha Crux 125cc motorbike for Vianney Centre, Sivagangai, Tamil Nadu, India - education and development for socially excluded low-caste Dalit children.
- 8 bicycles for Mulanga Rural Health Centre, Chinsali, Zambia – mobility for Community Health Workers based at 7 outstations.

- Toyota Hilux for the Women's Construction Collective, Condega, Esteli, Nicaragua - transport of supplies and Trainers to teach women carpentry and other construction trades traditionally carried out by men.
- Locally built boat and 25hp engine for the Youth Dept., Cardinal Nsubuga Leadership Training Centre, Uganda - pastoral care and health work on Bussi and Ggolo islands, Lake Victoria.
- Tempo Traveller Ambulance for Assumption Hospital, Kerala State, India - providing medical care for 250 villages.

Answers to common questions about leaving a gift to SURVIVE-MIVA in your Will...

Do I have to use a solicitor to draw up my Will?

No, but we recommend that you do. A solicitor will make sure that the wording of your Will is precise and clear so that your money and goods will definitely get to the people and organisations you wish to benefit.

I have already drawn up my Will. Is it easy to alter my Will to leave some money to SURVIVE-MIVA ?

Yes, you just need to complete a simple codicil form (available from SURVIVE-MIVA) and send it to your solicitor.

Does SURVIVE-MIVA need to know that I have left them a gift in my Will?

No, but knowing you intend to do so gives us confidence to plan for the future.
